All Aboard

Do you like to train your brain? Then this All Aboard game is for you! Using track, train and scenery, you can design your own virtual train set. This set of art tools is a fun way to exercise your thinking skills.

Animal Homes

Help these critters find their natural habitats in Animal Homes. It's a fun science and geography game for preschool and kindergarten-sized brains.

Animal Safari

Match the names of the animals to their pictures in Funschool's Animal Safari. This science game is a fun way for new readers to learn to recognize words.

Animal Spot

Make these critters complete with Animal Spot. Match the animals with their headgear in one of Funschool's easiest science games.

Animal Tracks

Give your brain a break with this Animal Tracks science game. Match the footprints to the animals who make them – it's fun, easy and educational.

From Playing to Creating Games on my iPad

Last holiday break I spent hours and hours playing games on my iPad. This holiday break I spent hours and hours creating them on my iPad. (and organizing resources on how to do this at Appcraft.wikispaces.com)

Last year at this time, I was organizing a Professional Development event on "Using Games to Promote Creativity and Innovation in Schools". We hired Ruben Puentedura to kick off the day. We prepared for the day by listening to Dr. Puentedura's Games and Learning Podcast on iTunes University and by

The interface features a top navigation bar with icons for Back, Activities, Parent/Teacher, Standards, and Instructions. On the left, a vertical toolbar contains icons for various shapes: a green triangle, an orange square, a blue parallelogram, a yellow trapezoid, a red trapezoid, and a yellow hexagon, along with a 'Clone' button. The central workspace displays several geometric shapes: three green triangles, two red trapezoids, five yellow hexagons (one with a dotted pattern), and a row of five orange squares. A trash can icon is located in the bottom right of the workspace. On the right, a sidebar titled 'Make a Set' contains instructions and a table.

Make a Set

1. Notice the number of each shape listed in the table.
2. For each shape, add the indicated number blocks into the workspace.

Frog Match

This activity is designed to be used with the plastic frogs found at Dollar Tree (called "Rainforest Creatures...they come with 9 or 10 in a pack). To make it, print and cut out the lily pads (above). Children read the simple descriptions (color words) on the lily pads to match the frogs to the correct lily pads. I make the activity more exciting by adding tongs to pick up the frogs and magnifying glasses to examine them carefully.

Games to Make

*Activities with an "*" were created by Kelly Nyman—all others are traditional games or were found online.

**All black line masters included were created by Kelly Nyman using Microsoft Office Clip Art

Wishy Washy Game* (blackline master--game mat) (blackline master--dice)

Print one game board for each child. Laminate and cut apart on the middle line. The top part is the game mat for each child. Cut out the playing pieces on the bottom half. Print one die, laminate, and assemble. To play give each student a game mat and place the playing pieces face up in the middle of the table. Students read a word/letter/etc and then roll the die and follow the directions on the die (take the piece shown, choose any piece—wild), or put one piece back. If a student takes a piece that they don't need, then they just lose that turn and play continues to the next student. The first student to collect all 4 pieces wins the game.
